Striking Dakkota auto workers picket Ford Chicago Assembly and call for ban on scab parts: "An injury to one is an injury to all!"

Andy Thompson, George Marlowe 28 August 2024

Work at Dakkota, Ford or in the auto industry? Fill out the form below this article to get involved with the Autoworkers Rank-and-File Committee Network at your plant. All submissions will be kept anonymous.

Dakkota parts workers in Chicago have courageously been on strike for nearly a month. They have rejected four separate UAW-company sellout agreements that would impose poverty wages on them, despite threats of lockouts and job cuts by the UAW and the company.

The rebellion of Dakkota workers has won support among Ford workers, workers in Dakkota plants in Michigan and among other Big Three auto workers.

On Wednesday afternoon, in a development of immense significance in the class struggle, Dakkota workers sought to break the isolation imposed by the UAW bureaucracy and go on the offensive by picketing the Ford Chicago Assembly Plant during the shift change.

The workers handed Ford workers the recently published statement of the Dakkota Workers Rank-and-File Committee titled, Support the Dakkota auto parts strike! An injury to one is an injury to all! Ban the use of scab parts from Dakkota!

Currently, the UAW bureaucracy and UAW Local 551 have forced workers at the Ford plant to continue handling scab parts from Dakkota. But there has been growing opposition among Ford workers to handling parts produced by strikebreakers, which the UAW has completely ignored.

The picketing outside the Ford plant by Dakkota workers is the first of its type in decades. It expresses the objective strivings of workers to expand their strike against poverty wages in the auto industry and link up their struggle with the fight against job cuts and layoffs.

The picketing by the Dakkota workers outside the Ford Chicago Assembly plant has already begun to have an impact, with Ford workers responding in anger on social media.

One Ford worker responded, "International is leaving you guys to hang. An CAP/551 shouldn't have taken one scab part! This goes against everything UAW stands for! Where's the solidarity for [Dakkota workers in] 3212!?"

On the picket line on Tuesday, Dakkota workers had a clear message to workers at Ford: "Stop using scab parts!"

Workers demanded, "Leave the scab parts alone! We need the cost of living just like you all did. We stood out there a few months with you supporting you the same way, and we didn't get paid for it, but we were out there." One worker appealed, "Brothers and sisters of the UAW, period. Do not use them scab parts."

Another worker said to Ford workers, "If they shut Ford down, it costs this company money. Support our strike! We supported you guys when you went out on strike. We were out of jobs. We didn't get any strike pay when they went out on strike. You should not be using these parts."

Workers are not shy about expressing their anger at UAW officials. UAW President Shawn Fain, other UAW International executives and UAW Local 3212 officials have responded to the repeated defeat of their sellout contracts by threatening workers, telling them that if they do not accept Dakkota's demands, they will be fired. "They are just trying to get us to go back/torkeos/kweeneangry to learn that Fain, after speaking at the Democratic worker told the *World Socialist Web*N& reaction with the Constant of the UAW Women's "They are not trying to reason with the sound the two meeting he met with Biden's Acting Labor Secretary Julie want. They just want us back in Sthewcho Tsanction and Fain's installation as UAW president in an illegitimate people, they only come out here to trylection vinwehics the percent of the UAW membership was excluded.

take a contract. On June 25, a federal judge in Michigan ruled that Su's refusal to act on "The offers are terrible," she contioneplathThe onionystematic voter suppression brought by rank-and-file is not fighting for what we want. They converderly Will Hgehman was "arbitrary" and completely illegitimate.

to bargain to get us back on the line." A striking worker commented: "I've been here seven years. I don't know who he is. He [Fain] could walk right past me, and I wouldn't know. He A veteran Dakkota worker saidhasti Weedmakeren'o representation. On a strike you usual As not the rapoint of anger for workers towards the UAW bureaucracy is that person somewhere. They have been rapoint on social media have been censored or shut down by union convince us to go back to work." of the circle of the converse of the conv forced into a shotgun vote.

Other workers spoke to the massive disparity in their pay ompared to the massive profits of the "Tohen pappy is "goiney. We add a UAW app. They put it up, and then they got rid of it. 1.1 billion in 2023—that's $366,0067 hpdra & hap Woy page with the union representatives. They deleted that after our third orker said. "And they employ 3,000 to powples the out how stopped us from responding to it."

ntire company. We are getting paid a Apitthenceyonkaerthelylearle. "The whole reason for it to be up there was for us to share king the profits. That's not right. Wher are in the province of the profits. That's not right. Where are in the province of the

ork. We are the ones sitting in that http://www.are the ones sitting in the ones sitti

o workers, one of the biggest sources of frustration has been opts by the UAW bureaucrats to make workers vote on the ntract proposal multiple times. To add insult to injury, they ne it without giving workers time to study the contract and with one another.

hin seven days we voted three times," one worker related. was no explanation about any parts of the contract. The rk was given to us the date of the vote. We didn't have time about what we were going to do. I mean, it's a type of ion."

The strike is stalling us out. No water. We don't ice. It's wearing everybody down."

rring to the $1.1 million that the UAW donated to the tic Party, a worker commented, "They are giving the money nt in front of us!"

To contact the WSWS and the Socialist Equality Party visit:

wsws.org/contact